▶▶ GETTING INTO THE ACTIVITY

Summer is here and with it we have hotter weather and less rain. Help the plants to get their much needed water, by giving a grown-up a hand to water the plants.

Summer usually sees gardens and parks come to life with colourful flowers and plants which all look great. However, without water to help keep plants healthy and hydrated, these plants and flowers can end up dying.

Help a grown-up to water the plants. For this you'll need a watering can full of water or a hose pipe. Carefully water the plants. Follow the advice of your grown-up whilst doing this. Could you make this your job for a whole week?

Share a picture of you watering the plants with your BB group or post on social media using #BBatHOME.
